

Come A Summer Night

by Janie Meneely

Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night
Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night

Come a summer night and the wind start to blowing up
Wind start to blowing up, blowing up the river
Come a summer night, and the waves start to boiling up
Waves start to boiling up, boiling up with thunder
Come the lightning, come the rain down
Come the thunder, come the wind
Little boat that swings at anchor
Pray the Gods you'll set your sails again

Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night
Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night

Johnny get your jump on, heading down the river
Heading down the river, heading on for home now
Johnny get your jump on, heading down the river
Heading down the river, storm be coming on now
Come the lightning, come the rain down
Come the thunder, come the wind
When the skies are split asunder
Pray the gods you'll see the shore again

Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night
Come a summer night, oh
Come a summer night

REPEAT FROM BEGINNING